CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

I write to rejoice with you on this rare accomplishment of attaining the age of 90 years. This is not all; you remain strong both in mind and body, thereby, contributing to the growth and development of Ehugbo cultural heritage in particular and Nigeria, in general. Your intellectual and moral input can never be overestimated, especially for us, in the discipline of history and historiography.

On various occasions, I have been availed of the opportunity to learn many things from you on the culture and ways of our people. I have enormously benefitted from your intellectual resource centre right from my undergraduate days, when my long essay writing took me to attempt a reconstruction of the origin and waves of migrations of Ehugbo people. May I use this opportunity to thank you for your availability and scholarly advises.

On this occasion of celebrating your 90th birthday, I pray God to keep you for us in good health of mind and body. May I also extend my appreciation and gratitude for all you have done for me in particular, and for my colleagues in history department. May God bless you the more, sir.

Happy Birthday, Horii,
Happy Birthday, Sir.

Yours faithfully,

Ekumaoko, Chijioke Egwu, Ph.D.
